Letter from the Editors

Hello from 2007 leagues under the sea...

It's always rocky on the bottom, and on the journey to the surface one may encounter a fair share of sharks, squids, and stingrays.

So basically high school has had its fun, and its rough times, but we've all made memories we will remember forever. Enjoy and welcome to our deep blue sea...

Here's my favorite advice for all of us taking off. You must have the courage to follow your heart and intuition. They somehow already know what you truly want to become. So heres to caps and gowns everybody, I hope you're ready.

Before a lobster molts, it has to lose weight or risk getting stuck in its old clothes. Once shed, its shell is soft and vulnerable but it is larger in size. It's been a fun 4 years of high school. Lots of joking around throughout the years, with the occasional "frog dance". The time at the football homecoming game was a blast, painting "I" on my chest to help spell GRAFTON! And back to spell INDIANS! Haha... Hopefully Beets is still with us for our 10 year reunion and that'll just about do it.

Homecoming 2006 will be my most treasured memory because it showed me how inventive the Class of 2007 really is!! We definitely banded together to make this school red. Our immense spirit was the greatest reason for our victory. We really turned it around this year (and we didn't cheat!!!) It is however, now, time for us to move on and leave Grafton in the dust. Success is not determined by wins and losses. Its over! Thanks to my boys and all my friends.Missions.canoe trips. Operation fire stool. TENNBALL. Bball. The meanest indoor soccer team ever. The pit. and many others. Its been fun, but its gone by way too fast. Ive learned a lot of things in high school, some good some bad, but never the less Ive learned a lot.

It's been 4 years w/ countless memories. I know you all will miss me. Im grateful 2 be able 2 grow up w/ every1, learnin, playin, & causin trouble together, good and bad memories. We stuck 2gether thru it all. Homecoming, the class unity that night reminded me of how much I love this class. Good luck and Ill miss you all.

CLASS TRIP 2007

Highfield Meadows

Graduation 2007

Senior year is supposed to be fun,
Pulling pranks and making memories all in one.
Looking back at all the years we've been here,
Coming to a thought and thinking "Oh dear,"

Freshman year we came in all tough and bold,
By sophomore year we'd do what we're told.

Junior year came and it rolled on by,
'til senior year, we feared the time would fly.

From homecoming games, cheering the team on,
to semi formals, all come and gone.

Sitting in the desks just after dawn,
taking a test with a rather large yawn.

Looking so nice at all the proms,
Hemming up your gown, all thanks to mom.
And for all you gentlemen who were once afraid of "cooties",
You've all grown up and become quite cuties.

Competitions between the classes was such a blast,
But now I think its gone by way too fast.
As my last day went by and I gave my locker a final slam,
I stood there, took a deep breath and said "Here we go man."

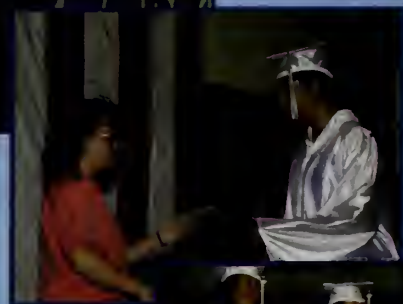

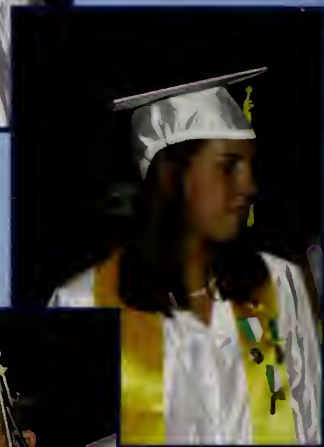

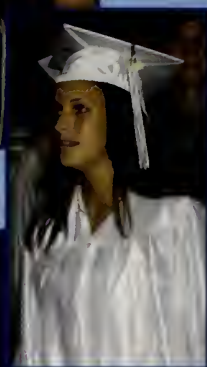

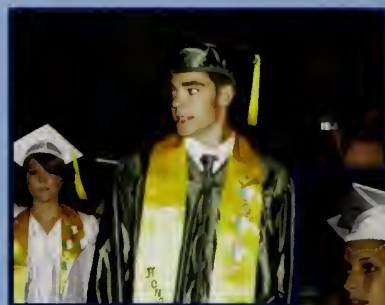

Gaining and losing oh so many friends,
Wishing that it weren't the end.
Making each other laugh and putting on smiles,
It seemed like the race to the finish would go on for miles.

And here we all are, awaiting the time,
When our names are called and we stand in line.
Photos and film will be taken all day,
Friends put on a smile, we've made it all this way.

As I stand here before you, seeing all smiling faces,
No one's obnoxious, there are no such traces.
Now is the time to say our good-byes,
Don't forget to wipe those tear stained faces.

Put on a smile and be proud,
And know we made it out with a bang that was quite loud.
So I wish to pronounce a toast, raise a glass to heaven,
Good luck to the class of double oh seven.

The day you were born was the happiest day of my life. I can't believe how fast 18 years has flown by. Even though you have grown into a beautiful woman, you will always be my S.S. There are no words that can express how proud I am of you. You'll do great at Pratt. (Try not to have too much fun!)
